AN ILLINOIS HERO

It was 150 years ago this month that a young Kentuckian led a band of hardy soldiers into the then little known region northwest of the Ohio river. That man was George Rogers Clark. He was then 23 years old.

Reserved seats for H. S. opera on sale Tuesday at 12 o'clock.

MARSHALL VIOLET
DIES IN FRANKLIN

Franklin, Ill., Feb. 23.—Marshall Violet, long time resident of this village, passed away at his home at 3:50 o'clock this morning. He was born on a farm near Franklin, March 29, 1867, a son of William and Sarah Violet. On June 13, 1898, he was united in marriage to Miss Lizzie Reed.

Mr. Violet is survived by two sons and one daughter, Lloyd Violet, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Glenn Violet, St. Louis, and Mrs. Greenup Edwards of Franklin. He also leaves three brothers and four sisters, George Violet, Leeds, N. D.; Arthur Violet, Springfield; Newton Violet, White Hall; Mrs. Lou Brown, Loami, Ill.; Nettie Mayes, Springfield; Mrs. Julia Gorman, Wagoner, Okla.; Mary Spencer, Nadona, Mo., and one grandson, Norman Violet.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Franklin M. E. church, in charge of Rev. H. F. Higgins. Burial will be in Franklin Cemetery.

News Notes
Mr. Elmer Dicks and daughter of Medina are visiting at the home of Mrs. A. M. Calhoun.
Miss Maude Collins is spending the week-end with friends in Champaign.

Mrs. John Bland spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Beup and family in Jacksonville.

ROYAL NEGROES

The following numbers will be on the program:
Music—Mrs. Rawlings.
Reading—Lena Mary Nune.
Song with ukulele—Verna Lee Souza.

Scene—Miss Inezene and Philip Fernandez, and Miss Dorothy Wilbur.

Reading—Roberta Nunes.
Music—Mrs. Rawlings.
Play—"The Village Meddler".

Characters:
Mr. Hezekiah Sreecher—Blanche DeFrates.
Mrs. Tabitha Sreecher—Bessie Huff.

Miss Hannah Whitley, an old maid—Elsie Biber.
Sam Smith, a boy—Samie Fernandez.

For a long while our people were so busy with working and earning that they had little time to think of their past or of the places to which they had been taken.

Now this indifference is turning into a great interest.

OBSOLETE JAILS

The National Crime Commission, after a careful study of jail conditions throughout the United States, recommends that "obsolete jails" should be taken over by the care of all their convicted prisoners.

That is, the states should close the local jails, workhouses and other penal institutions.

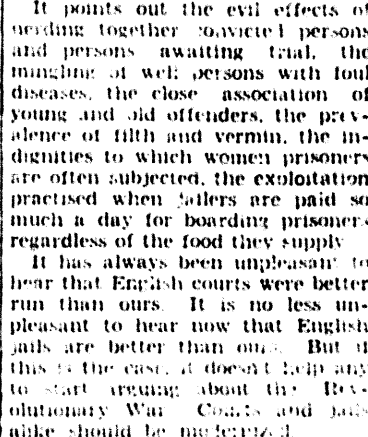

The committee making this report, headed by former Gov. Lowden, declares that municipal and county prisons constitute "a penal institution with the age of centuries, an institution which England abandoned over 50 years ago."

It points out the evil effects of sending together convicted persons and persons awaiting trial, the mingling of well persons with foul diseases, the close association of young and old offenders, the prevalence of filth and vermin, the indignities to which women prisoners are often subjected, the exorbitant prices charged for food and clothing, the lack of food for board prisoners, regardless of the food they supply.

It has always been unpleasant to hear that English courts were better than ours. It is no less unpleasant to hear now that English jails are better than ours. But if this is the case, it doesn't help any to sit around about the Revolutionary War Courts and make such a fuss.

TODAY'S TALK

By George Mathew Adams.

STRANGERS

I always get a thrill from talking to someone whom I have never met before—especially a stranger with whom I have been placed through some circumstance or other.

A traveler usually gets lonely for human companionship—and I have been quite a traveler over the years. I have picked up a great deal of useful knowledge about people merely from little talks I have had with those with whom I have come in contact during my many journeys. And you never know when you might see him again. That is the way it is with a stranger. That is the way it is with a stranger.

One of the loveliest trips I have ever taken was one through the Canadian Rockies some years ago. In one of the compartment cars I became engaged in talk with an unknown stranger. I found he was the close friend of a large number of famous people who were his men in the world. His talks about them, and his own unique opinions, were most entertaining and instructive. I added another friend to the small group I then owned.

AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

ILLINOIS

On the stage:
Collette and Her Jazzmania Revue are billed as "Flaming Youth" for the manner in which they romp through fifteen minutes of entertaining the versatile antics. Two boys and two girls comprise the cast headed by the inimitable Collette, formerly premier danseuse with Gen. White's "Scandals." Singing, dancing, claret and piano music are included.

One of the most unique comedy and novelty musical and singing skits is done by Francis & Day. Special scenic effects depict the stage and orchestra pit of a theatre with Mr. Francis working as the "Guest Conductor" in front of this novel setting, depicting an eccentric Dutch character and playing cello and piano. Miss Day is a violinist as well as a capable songstress.

A unique and sensational dancing and romping program is in store for the audience when they view Cropley and Violet's vaudeville offering. Featured among their numbers is a combined lariat twirling and adagio dancing bit that is something entirely new to the American public.

On the screen:
"Sunset Pass" is a story of cattle rustlers, and the bringing to justice of a band of thieves by a U. S. Marshall, a role portrayed by Holt. Nora Lane has the role of the sister of a leader of the outlaws, giving the story thrilling complications, because Holt and Miss Lane fall in love. "Sunset Pass" is said to be one of the most entertaining stories ever written by the famous author, and Paramount has faithfully translated it to the screen. Otto Brower, who directed "Avalanche," also directed this Zane Grey story.

MAJESTIC

The plot deals with a youth in love with the premier danseuse of the "Favorites." Against his parents' wishes he marries the girl only to find his generous allowance cut off. The young couple try to struggle on against the almost overwhelming odds of very straight financial circumstances. The relatives of the youth seize upon this weakness to attempt to poison his mind with suspicion of his wife. Sunlighter, the former dancing partner of the girl, uses the situation as a wedge to force his attentions upon the young wife. Out of this combination grow some dramatic moments in which the audience can see the girl's love and the highest pitch in fear that the tale will turn against her before.

SCOTT

Despite Boyd's bitter hatred of his wife for her calculated treachery on their wedding day, government regulations send him a home to see his wife to her grave. The minister, while his little French sweetheart, "Lingerie," whose pure love has cured his heartache, is temporarily left behind to mourn her loss.

"Lingerie" wretched farewell to the helpless victim of governmental red tape and Boyd's unavailing resentment at his wife's brazen encouragement of her lover's attentions furnish some of the tenderly dramatic moments of "Lingerie," the Tiffin-Stahl production featuring Melvyn McGregor and Alice White at the Scott Theatre today.

The fine cast, in addition, comprises Mildred Harris, Armand Kaliz, Cornelia Kellough, Kit Guard, Victor Pottel and Marcelle Corday, under the able direction of George Melford.

GEOLOGIST ADDRESSES D. S. ROUND TABLE
Dr. R. A. Crook Tells Club Members About Making of World.

The Domestic Science Round Table had as the speaker yesterday afternoon Dr. R. A. Crook of Springfield, who spoke in a most interesting manner on "Facts and Fancies in the World's Making." Dr. Crook is a nationally known geologist and was in Who's Who in 1927 and 28. He received his degree from the Ohio Wesleyan University and has studied in France, Germany and England.

Dr. Crook was chief of the state museum division of the Illinois department of Registration and Education in 1917 and was president of the Illinois Academy of Science in 1915. He has also contributed various papers to American and German geological journals.

"How was the world made?" is the question asked by many people," Dr. Crook said, "and I've been interested in seeing the answers that people all over the world tried and are trying to make. The Chinese three hundred years, B. C., explained the origin of the universe. India gave the answer that God took a union and from his head and different parts of his body made the world and yet the Persians thought it was a man in a boat picking up dirt and spreading it out making land." The answers given, Dr. Crook said, are almost like a dream, yet some of them point to the ideas we have today.

"The Greeks," the speaker stated, "had an idea and indulged in it, pressing it. One said the world came out of chaos, another said it was made from air and yet another said the sun was the eye of the Almighty, but they did not have facts and how can we have a world without facts? The Greeks were philosophers and we were not there so it is an everlasting question: how are we going to find out?"

"At the Springfield museum, they have two shooting stars and so far as any one knows they are the only two ever found in the state of Illinois. One is as large as a pumpkin and in falling buried itself seventeen inches into the ground. We think our world started as a solid and they used to believe it began as a nebula." In a most interesting manner Dr. Crook gave the origin of the rocks and the different types.

In the oldest rocks he said, you find the simple animals because at that time there were no other kinds. Later you find higher types of animals and birds.

"Life began very simple. God created light, the heavens and earth. Man began as a bacteria."

We should compliment ourselves that men have risen to where they now are. We used to be the lowest animals and now we have conquered all different elements, better than that we have conquered ourselves. The mind deals with trillions of years of time and the human mind can fathom these things. Yet it is the greatest thing to have the intelligence to bring the most distant stars to us, and we should be more devoted to this great world God has made for us.

Mrs. Lois Harney Hardin, a faculty member of the Conservatory of Music, entertained with a group of folk songs, preceding Dr. Crooks lecture. Mrs. Hardin was accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Martin.

A short business session was held with the president Mrs. H. L. New presiding. It was decided at that time to donate five dollars to the Oak Lawn Sanatorium for the purpose of installing radies for the patients.

At the close of the meeting the guests were served a lovely refreshment course with Mrs. Glen Ebaugh and Mrs. Howard Potter as hostesses.

year old student, who jumped from a window and fell to her death.

Circumstances which led up to the fatality were told by three student witnesses. They told of the annual Washington birthday party, given by the faculty, which was in progress when fire broke out.

The program which started at 7:30 o'clock was completed and the first dance on the main floor of the gymnasium was finished. The dance was in the midst of the second dance, when smoke was seen curling from the top of the stage curtain.

At the conclusion of the first dance, a flashlight picture of the party had been taken from the stage, and witnesses said it was about ten minutes after the taking of the picture when the fire was discovered.

No Fire on Stairways

Soon the front curtain allowed out, and flames shot up from the stage. The blaze went to the roof and threw intense heat into the balcony, driving out the spectators. Congestion occurred where the crowd from the balcony met those rushing from the main floor. However, witnesses said, there was no fire on the stairways.

Miss Dorothy Booth, 1213 State street, Beardstown, was the first to testify. She told of the occasion and said that she left the gymnasium by the main entrance at the north end with others escaping from the fire. She was asked to aid in carrying one of the girls to the main building. The girl she said was lying on the ground, and she assisted others to carry her to the office of Miss Wackerle. She later learned that the girl was Eugene Norman.

The next to testify was Dr. Edward Bove. His testimony was substantially as follows: "Between 8:30 and 9 o'clock last night I was called to see a girl who had I was told had been injured at the Woman's College. I entered the main building and went along a hall to the south. I found the girl lying in a room on the east side of the hall. She was on the floor. To the best of my judgment life was then extinct, the body was still warm. A pool of blood extended some distance about her head. I covered the body and instructed the three or four women present not to touch it. I then notified the coroner.

Girl's Skull Fractured

"I have since given the body a more careful examination and find that there is a compound fracture of the skull in the left parietal region. It is my opinion that this fracture was the primary cause of death, with resulting hemorrhage and shock as secondary causes. I also found several scratches on the backs of her arms, a deep cut on one hand, and several abrasions on the face. The fracture was about two inches square, and appeared to have been made by the striking of the head on some sharp object.

Miss Ruth Mathews, 714 West Washington street, Jackson, Mich., was the next witness. She told of leaving the gym with the first group of frightened students. Miss Mathews, who is a girl scout, looked about for some way in which to give aid. She saw the body of Miss Norman and helped carry her to her room. Miss Mathews testified that the party guests were in costume, and that Miss Norman wore blue. She said that while carrying the injured girl to the main building, she saw a crowd gathered about Mrs. McClelland, and that she returned later to give her aid to other victims of the tragedy. By that time, she said, Mrs. McClelland had been taken away.

Tried to Calm Girls

Miss Virginia Jameson, Route 2, Canton, Ill., was next to testify. She said she recognized Miss Norman from her costume after the accident. Miss Grace Tickle, a member of the college faculty, told of the party and the taking of the flashlight picture. She said she was dancing in the middle of the floor when the fire was discovered, and that she had plenty of time to leave the building. She endeavored to calm the frightened girls who were fairly well crowded in the rush down the stairs and thru the hall. When she had reached the campus, she said, some of the students came to her and informed her that one of the girls was badly hurt. She went to the room where Miss Norman had been taken.

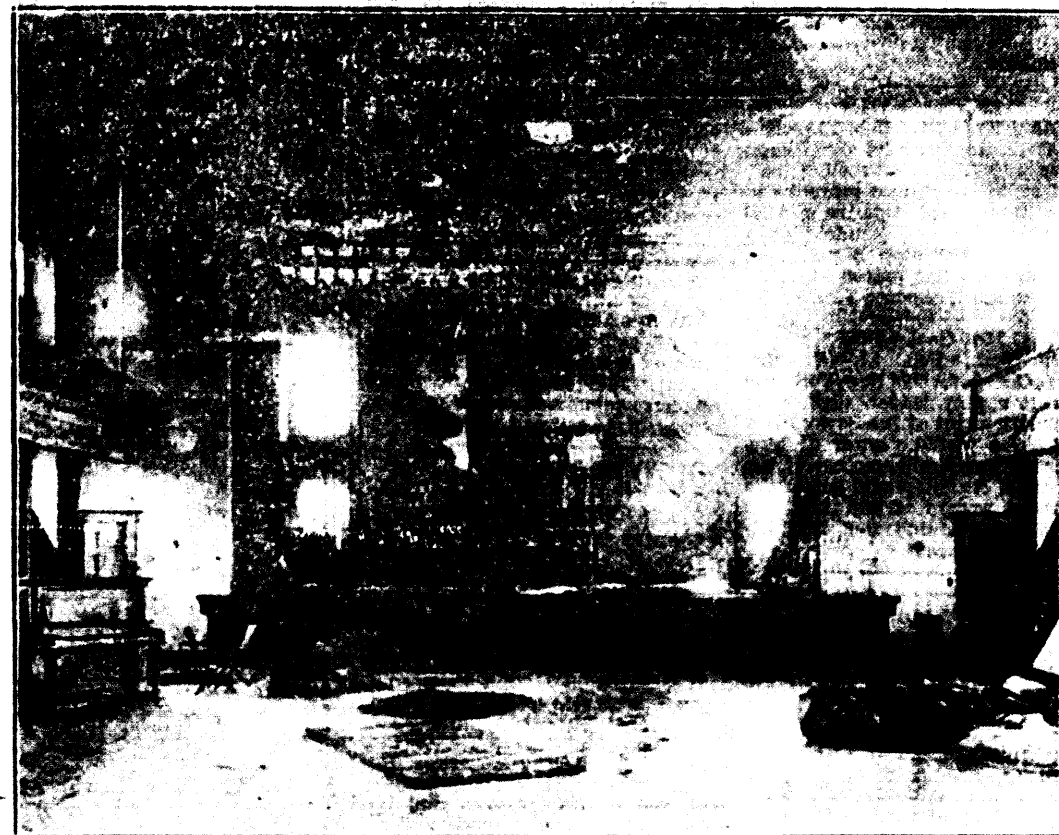

Miss Tickle said that it was customary to take flashlight pictures of college gatherings and that such pictures had been taken in the gym many times. She also said that due precautions against fire were the rule at the college, and that when she became a member of the faculty she had been impressed with the regard to safety from fire which prevailed at the institution.

Frank Hamm testified that he had been on the stage with Maxwell while the picture was taken, and had pulled the curtains together to keep the flashlight smoke from going out in the main room. He said that he saw no evidences of fire when the picture was taken. The stage, he said, is about eighteen feet high. After pulling the curtains together, he went to the space in front of the curtains and sat on the floor over the footlights. He said he knew nothing of the fire until he saw Dr. McClelland making his way from the balcony, and he could tell by the president's actions that something was wrong. Dr. McClelland rushed to the door leading to the stage and reached almost as soon as Hamm could do so. Hamm said he grabbed a fire extinguisher and fought the blaze, but that it got too hot for him. He then went to the other side of the stage across the front, for the velvet curtain had not yet caught fire. He tried to fight the blaze from the other side, but the heat drove him back.

Hamm said he then went to the rear of the building where guests were rushing out the main entrance. He went to get his hat which was hanging in the hall. He said he saw Miss Norman jump from the window, and got down the stairs as quickly as possible, avoiding the press by sliding the banisters. He found Miss Norman lying on the ground and assisted to carry her to the main building.

Musicians Discover Blaze

Charles Cornick, a member of the orchestra which was playing for the dance, told how the blaze was discovered by the musicians. The four players kept their heads and continued to play for about a minute after the panic started, believing that they could calm the guests. But when they saw it did no good, they gathered up their instruments and made their escape with the others, having plenty of time. Several young men returned into the building to look for any who might have been overcome by heat, and were still working in this way, covering their faces with wet handkerchiefs, when firemen arrived.

The jury, after deliberating some 45 minutes, handed the following verdict to Coroner C. S. Young: "We the jury on oath do find that Mrs.

Norman came to her death by jumping from a window of the Illinois Woman's College gymnasium on the evening of Feb. 22, 1929, resulting in a compound fracture of the skull, with hemorrhage and shock, and that her death to be accidental.

The jury consisted of E. L. Kinney, foreman; W. E. Boston, W. D. James, W. A. Fay, Len Magill and L. S. Doane. W. D. James served as clerk.

Otto Speth was the next witness. He declared that never in his twenty years' experience in taking flashlight pictures had such a fire occurred, and that he could not see how the flash powder could have caused the blaze. He said he had taken pictures from the same position when flimsy paper decorations were hanging in close proximity to the camera. Last night he sent his assistant, Russell Maxwell, to take the pictures. He testified that Maxwell was an experienced photographer, used to handling the flashlight powder. The powder, he said, is discharged with a cap, and no matches are used. The flames do not extend upward more than three feet, he said.

Russell Maxwell, who took the photos, said he set the camera some distance back from the front of the stage, which is about 30 feet wide. There were some curtains about ten feet above the camera, he said, and a piece of scenery about five feet to the rear, all well out of reach of any flame from the powder. He said he made sure of there being no inflammable material within reach.

After taking the first picture, Maxwell said, he told Frank Hamm, the chief engineer at the college, to close the heavy velvet curtains at the front of the stage, in order that the power smoke might not go through the room and fog the next picture. A. C. Metcalf, he said, had called him to take the photographs. After taking the picture, Maxwell said, he placed his flash pan on top of the camera and placed his foot on the cloth over his grip at some distance away. He then went down into the audience and made his way to the north end of the building to find Dr. McClelland and see what other pictures were wanted.

He said he never got back to the stage. The fire broke out and the guests began rushing from the building. Maxwell was in the hall near the stair landing. He said he saw no girls break the glass of the window from which Miss Norman later jumped. He climbed on a table in an effort to reach the window, but could not for the crowd. He said he saw Miss Norman go through the window. He found some of the women rushing from the balcony, their hair and coat collars ablaze. The heat in the balcony was intense and most of those injured were in this section of the building.

Beat Out Fire on Clothing

Maxwell said he beat out the flames on the women's hair and clothing. He remained in the building until all the guests were gone and attempted to explore it to see if anyone had been left. The smoke was thick, and Maxwell said he dipped his handkerchief in a punch bowl and spread it over his face while he was trying to return into the gym.

Eugene Agnes Norman came here to attend college from Jasper, Ind. She was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Norman. Her father arrived here Saturday morning and Miss Norman was 19 years of age. She first came to the Woman's college in the fall of 1927 and enrolled as a freshman. Illness compelled her to be absent much of the time, and when she returned last fall, she again became a member of the freshman class. She had started her sophomore work at the beginning of the present semester.

Miss Norman was a distant relative of Mrs. T. P. Carter, Miss Amelia DeMott and Mrs. F. A. Gates of this city. Funeral services will be held at Jasper, Ind., probably Monday.

A STUDENT'S STORY OF A TRAGIC EVENT

By Mary Eleanor Musk, '32

Following the calamity in the Woman's college gymnasium Friday night, the girls appear listless, a little disheveled, and blue-black circles under their eyes show that Morpheus hasn't been around very recently.

However, classes were going on Saturday, and the students are making an effort to talk about something else without being indifferent to the pain the victims received. The advice of the faculty, and the general slogan is "forget it." But the slogan should be "forget it—if you can," because the event was intensely sensational and a real thrill to us as important to us as the Chicago fire was important to the whole country. Imagine a roomful of girls dressed in colonial fashion, promading sedately across the floor, and then the sudden onrush of flames reaching out, and threatening the lives of all.

COLLEGE HEAD TELLS ABOUT FRIDAY BLAZE

of the second story, clinging to the walls. I shouted to them not to jump, then reentered the building and with some assistance pulled the three women back into the hallway and carried them to the outside.

Still unaware of the fate that met Miss Norman when she leaped from the window and of the injuries to Mrs. McClelland and others, I went to the main building for my overcoat and hat. Returning a moment later I found Mrs. McClelland on the ground injured and bleeding and learned the story of the balcony tragedy.

"One thinks that precision of movement is the method to follow at the time of crisis, but I believe that at this instance the orderly movement of the girls from the main floor added to the danger of the occupants of the balcony. The stairways leading downward from the balcony converge with the hallways from the main floor. So as the people in the balcony stifled by the heat struggled down the stairway, their chance for escape was somewhat lessened by congestion resulting from the movement of the students thru the corridor.

There are two stairways from the balcony to the main floor but faculty members and guests had all entered the balcony by means of the west stairway. In seeking to escape it was natural that they all turned to this stairway although exit on the east side was also possible.

"In looking back upon the terrible happening it hardly seems possible that there could have been such a train of events in such a very short period. The property loss was insignificant, but the flash of blinding flames created a stifling atmosphere that made for pain and injury. All that we can do now is to use our best efforts in alleviating the suffering and after a brief respite resume the college routine with renewed vigor and interest."

POSTPONE PLAY AT CENTRAL CHURCH

The play, "Beards on a String," which was to have been given by the Dramatic club of Central Christian church met next Tuesday night, Feb. 26, has been indefinitely postponed. The serious injury of Miss Eleanor Thompson, dramatic club director has made this postponement necessary. Miss Thompson was a victim of the fire at Illinois Woman's College Friday night.

As chairman of the Dramatic club and director of dramatics, Miss Thompson in the past several years has conducted many successful plays at the Central Christian church. She has had wide experience in this work and is considered a leader in amateur dramatics of this community.

STUDENTS NARRATE STORIES OF ESCAPE

Two Illinois Woman's College Girls Give Version of Tragic Happening.

Miss Bertha Swearingen, student at Illinois college, who was in the gymnasium when fire broke out Friday night, was one of those who escaped without injury. When asked to give her version of the tragedy she told the following story:

"It is an annual college custom to observe Washington's birthday anniversary with a big party given by the faculty for the students. About 8:15 in the evening the program which was given on the stage in the gymnasium, had just been brought to a close, and the dancing was begun. The entire student body was dressed in costumes of colonial days and during the first dance a camera-man, who was on the stage, took a flashlight picture of the party. To avoid filling the big room with the heavy smoke from the flash of light, the camera-man closed the thick plush curtains which shielded the stage from the audience, and went off the stage himself until the smoke should sift out the back windows.

"The dancing continued and in just a few minutes a sudden roar and breeze caused everyone to stop and look. The stage hangings of cotton flannel and other highly inflammable scenery had caught fire in some way from taking the picture and the flames were shooting around the heavy plush. As the curtains parted from the breeze, the flames leaped upward and almost instantly burned the faces and hands of the people seated in the balcony who were mostly faculty members and observers of the dance.

"In some manner the curtains were opened, exposing the raging fire to the big room, and with the fresh supply of air, the flames quickly filled the ceiling.

"There was an instant rush of the students toward the double stairway, and the room was emptied rapidly. The voices of Dr. McClelland the president, and others who remained most calm, quieted a number of girls, and the majority of them hurried down the two flights avoiding unnecessary crowding or jamming.

"The three hundred girls in the dormitories, who had escaped even greater tragedy, strove to maintain as much quiet and avoid as much confusion as possible, and faculty and students alike united in every effort to help those injured. The hearts of the college girls were filled with gratitude to the people of Jacksonville, as they came to give their assistance.

"The parents of the injured were notified immediately and later in the night a personal telegram was sent to the parents of every girl in college.

"At chapel early Saturday morning Dr. McClelland urged every girl to bravely face the facts of the tragedy and show her mettle by helping to go on with the regular college work.

"Adding to the sorrow is the fact that many of those who were injured are faculty members who have given long and loyal service to the college."

Miss Bea Vasconcellos, student, who also escaped injury said, "Our modern 20th century girls, to celebrate Washington's birthday anniversary became statesmen and stateswomen, with powdered hair, 18th century wigs, ruffles, lace and long trailing skirts.

"Daintily and lightly they treaded through the grand march. They posed coyly for a brief second, as an alien modern took a flashlight picture of them, from the stage, and then disappeared behind closing curtains. Gaily the ladies resumed their dancing as their friends and supervisors looked on from the balcony.

"A flash of light filled one end of the room; the dancers stopped and stood to stare at the flaming curtains of the stage. The college girls did not faint, however, as their daintily buckled slippers were capably filled by modern misses.

"Followed a scurry for the exits by the general majority of the girls; some who though stunned, moved in a more or less dashing but orderly way for the doors; a few others were panic stricken; still others were calm and collected, who together with the president, and members of the faculty, directed and bolstered up the rushing crowd.

"The flames from the stage rapidly rushed up and over the ceiling of the gym onto the balcony singeing and burning the friends and supervisors of the college, who sat there. They rushed for the stairs; a few seeing the lower stairways apparently jammed and filled to capacity with the girls from the lower floor, climbed upon the window ledges bordering the stairway, and contemplated jumping two and a half stories, as a means for a quick escape. One jumped, for safety, and was fatally injured.

"Within a few minutes the building was emptied; the search for, and the caring of the injured was made, and the full realization of the tragedy became apparent, causing all Illinois to echo Dr. McClelland's statement: 'Almost Past Belief.'

Miss Barbara E. Smith visited in the city Saturday from Chanterville.

soon as the stairs were clear Dr. McClelland pulled me back thru the window with the other girls who were on the ledge. It was the worst experience that I have ever undergone.

"The girls were in the main calm and it was due to their own calm that there was not a greater loss of life."

MODISH MITZI

Some Inspired Dancing.

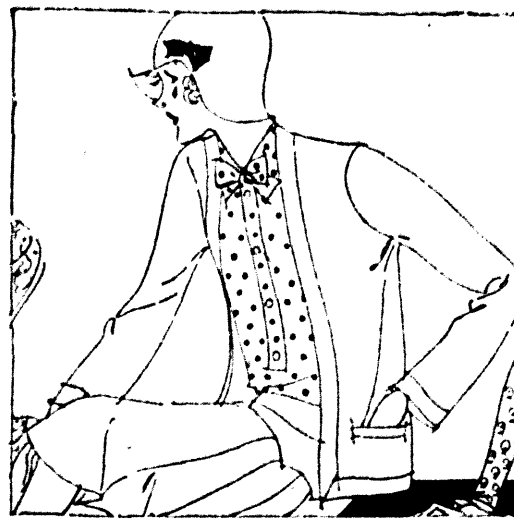

By Jay V. Jay

Mitzi is going to specialize in Spanish dances, castanets, fans and everything. She got the idea from this long sleeved dinner gown of lace over chiffon. If it weren't for fashions, Mitzi would never get a new idea! This one she is taking seriously, oh, very!

Adelaide is going in for something quaint and different. One of the old square dances from Provence, where peasant costumes were made of prints similar to the dress she wears. Peasant prints, tiny many-colored flowers—are very, very fashionable whether you dance or not.

Polly feeling a bit nautical in a costume of blue flannel jacket, white skirt and bow tie, is inspired to learn a correct sailor's horripole. It will come in handy this summer aboard somebody's yacht. Incidentally, if jackets will give it to her, Polly is in for a lot of inspiration.

The Gopher did not need any inspiration except Mitzi! He's practicing a buck and wing because they need him for a minstrel show. "You just keep at it," advises Mitzi. "Wonder if I'd be more successful at tight rope walking," he murmurs which shows his state of mind. He won't give up but he may give out!

Eleven High Schools To Compete In District Tournament

Millikin Too Good For Locals After Close First Half

Decatur, Feb. 23.—(Special)—Illinois college didn't have the endurance to finish the good fight which was started in the first half, and Millikin romped over the Blueboys 38 to 19. Illinois failed to score in the last ten minutes of play.

Millikin warmed up rapidly, taking a six point lead before Illinois counted. Bunch and Thomas spotted the basket then with a pair of field goals to bring the count to 6 to 4, but Millikin's forwards were burning up and they ran the count to 14 to 4 before Illinois counted again. After a three point rally, Millikin scored four points, and Bunch ended his scoring with a field goal.

That brought the score to 18 to 9, and Millikin counted from the field, and Wadsworth slipped one in from under the basket to make it 20 to 11. Newkirk and Thomas closed the scoring for Illinois in the first half which ended 24 to 15.

Wadsworth had been forced out of the game in the first half for talking back to the official, and Newkirk, who took over his work, found the hoop for four points after Millikin had counted four, and then Illinois quit. Millikin went along unperturbed in its scoring and wound up with a 38 to 19 count in their favor.

The game was at times slow and was marked throughout with ragged passing.

BADGERS DOWN PURPLE TO LEAD BIG TEN LOOP

Attendance Records Smashed as Two Powerful Teams Tie Up In Game—Any Team's Game Until Closing Whistle.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Wisconsin continued its leadership in the Big Ten basketball championship race by defeating Northwestern 31 to 25 in a close rough battle, before a record smashing throng of 6,400 spectators tonight.

The victory gave the Badgers a season's record of eight won and one lost, whereas their rivals, Michigan and Purdue, are deadlocked for second place with seven victories and two defeats each.

Tonight's battle, the second in a week between the powerful teams, was anybody's game until the last few minutes when Wisconsin pulled away. The Badgers came from behind to lead 12 to 8 at the halfway mark, but Northwestern retaliated with some dizzy shooting by Ricci and Marshall to overcome that margin at the start of the next period.

ONLY TWO BROWNS TO LEAVE FOR TRAINING

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Alto St. Louis Browns are expected to open training at West Palm Beach, Fla., Tuesday morning, only two of them will leave from here tomorrow night. They are Wallie Schang, veteran catcher and Tulsa's young third base graduate, Eddie Grimes. The balance were to report to Manager Dan Howley who has been in West Palm Beach for a month. Schang came here Friday obviously to talk contract but whether or not he signed could not be learned.

The pennant winning Cardinals get under way for Avon Park from here Monday with Manager Billy Southworth in charge of the four players leaving, two veterans, Grover Cleveland Alexander and Clarence Mitchell, and two rookies belonging to Card farms, make up the quartet. Coaches, trainers and business executives will accompany the first clubs. The regular infielders and contingent from St. Louis of the two outfielders of both clubs are scheduled to start training the week of March 4.

CARLTON IN FINALS
Houston, Tex., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Reuben Albaugh, Houston youth, and Ossie Carlton, defending champion will meet in the finals for the Houston country club title Sunday. This was decided Saturday when Albaugh scored a sensational upset over John Dawson, Chicago star, and tourney medalist, 1 up in 39 holes, and Carlton put out Jack Speer of Houston, 2 up, in 36 holes.

Garden Group Offers To Buy Polo Grounds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—The dream of the late Tex Rickard—an outdoor arena in New York City that could be converted into a mammoth stadium dedicated to boxing—was nearer realization today when over during the lifetime of the famous promoter.

An offer of $4,000,000 for 75 per cent of the stock in the National Exhibition company, controller of the New York Giants in the National league, has been made the three principal owners of the company by the directors of the Madison Square Garden corporation. The offer was taken under consideration by Chas. A. Stoneham, president of the company, Francis X. McQuade, former treasurer, and John McGraw, manager of the team after a discussion here Saturday with William F. Carey, new controller of the Garden affairs.

Although Carey refused to confirm all the details outright for fear that publicity would spoil the deal, news of the negotiations leaked out following upon a conference here Saturday between Carey and McGraw, who flew to Miami Beach from Havana and left the same night to lay the proposition before Stoneham in New York. The three own all but one quarter of the stock in the company, the other largest block, of 20 per cent, was purchased recently by William F. Kenney, close friend of former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York.

VIRGINIA TO BUILD LARGE RESERVOIR

Contract is Let for Construction of New Water System to Cost $138,000—Caldwell Engineering Company of This City to Supervise Construction

Virginia, Ill., Feb. 23.—(Special)—The Johnson Construction company of Springfield, today was awarded the contract for the construction of Virginia's new $138,000 water system. The contract calls for the construction of an impounding reservoir, filtration plant and a distribution system.

H. L. Caldwell and Howard Potter of the Caldwell Engineering company of Jacksonville, engineers on the project were in Virginia Saturday when the bids were opened. The Jacksonville engineers have been working on plans for several months and will have supervision over the construction. The Caldwell Engineering company also has the contract for the construction of the water system at Marissa, Ill.

The Virginia water system is being financed under a new law which permits a city to float bonds for water improvement work. When completed the impounding reservoir will have a capacity of 75,000,000 gallons of water. It will be constructed on the Chandlerville road one mile north of the city.

All preliminary work has been completed and the actual construction will start in about ten days. It is planned to have the system completed in the fall.

Most of the land for the reservoir was donated to the city by citizens. After the dam and impounding reservoir have been completed a large pressure tank will be placed on a hill near the Virginia High school. It is also included in the contract that water mains be laid through the city.

Virginia has been working on its water problem for many years and it was finally decided to solve the problem by the building of an impounding reservoir.

C. N. Priest has returned from a week's trip to the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. Mr. Priest took a special car party with him, and all report an enjoyable time.

WOLVES DROP IOWA TO KEEP BIG TEN LEAD

Rose Leads Michigan to Win as Truskowski Fails to Find Basket—Rough and Fast Game Ends 25 to 18.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Michigan clung to its place in the Western conference basketball race, defeating Iowa, 25 to 18, tonight. The contest was hard fought, and rough, although few fouls were called.

The Wolverines led from the start and were threatened only once when the Hawks scored six points in quick succession at the start of the second period. Every member of the Michigan team except Joe Truskowski, contributed points. Danny Rose led with four field goals. Farron, Hawk guard, led the losers with three goals.

CHICAGO WINS FIRST GAME FROM MINNESOTA

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The University of Chicago's weary basketball team won its first game in 10 starts in the Big Ten race tonight by defeating Minnesota 33 to 25.

Knotted at 18-all at the end of the first half, the Maroons suddenly came to life, held Minnesota to seven points, while they scored 15. Captain Virgil Gist at center and Kaplan at forward and Chagnon starred for the Maroons. They scored 24 points between them.

J. A. Dodds, E. H. P. John R. Phillips, Secy.

Convention Thesis Be Answered Though Character Education.

Monday evening there will be demonstrations of Physical Education and health activities as carried on in the Cleveland schools. On Tuesday evening the Superintendents will meet in a joint session with the American Education Research Association. The subject will be "The Importance of Research as a Basis for Public School Administration."

Wednesday evening will be given over to dinner meetings of the various colleges and universities whose alumni are in Cleveland during the week. Mr. Shafer expects to attend the University of Chicago dinner which will be held at the University Club.

At the same time the department of superintendents is meeting, the department of secondary school principals will hold its convention in Cleveland. The principal subjects for discussion will be "Supervision," "Training in Habits of Study," "The Articulation of Work of the Senior High School With the Elementary School Below and Junior Colleges Above."

These various meetings are programmed so that the principals may attend certain sessions of the department of superintendents and also that the superintendents may attend some of their sessions.

FRACTURE OF SKULL CAUSES FINN'S DEATH

Inquiry Into Death of Printer Conducted Saturday Afternoon by Coroner Young

Dennis J. Finn, 74, itinerant printer who passed away at Our Saviour's hospital Friday night, died from concussion of the brain, the result of a fracture of the skull, a coroner's jury found after hearing testimony at an inquest held at the John M. Carroll Undertaking Parlor Saturday afternoon.

Testimony showed that Finn was in a dying condition when he entered the hospital about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. His death came at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Reginald Norris was the first witness at the inquest. He told the jurors that he was called to see Mr. Finn about 7 o'clock but he found the injured man was dying and did not take him to the operating room for examination. Dr. Norris said that it was his belief that the man died from concussion of the brain. Dr. Norris said that he found abrasion on the right eye that might have been caused either by a fall or a blow.

Dr. J. H. Spencer, county physician, who was called to the police station to see Mr. Finn told the jurors that he arrived at the police station about 5 o'clock Friday morning being notified by the police that a man was ill there. He said that he found Finn under the influence of intoxicating liquor, being in an unconscious condition. He said that he examined the man and did not find anything that indicated that he had any head injury or broken bones.

The physician said that Finn bled slightly from the nose but he believed that the man would be all right after he had a little sleep. Dr. Spencer was again called to the police station about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. He said that the found Finn still in an unconscious condition. Finn was then removed to the hospital. Dr. Spencer said that death was the result of either a concussion or acute alcoholism. He added that uremic poisoning might have been a contributory cause.

Jeremiah Sweeney, merchants police, told the jury that he had found Finn in an intoxicated condition at the Labor Temple about 2 o'clock Friday morning. He said that Finn was able to walk and that he ordered Finn and another man whom he did not know from the temple. Sweeney told the jurors that he returned to the temple about 5 o'clock Friday morning and found Finn lying on the floor face down near a radiator. Beside him was a pool of blood. He notified the police and Patrolman E. A. Daniels and Charles Smith with Sergeant Roy Goodrich went to the temple and took Finn to the police station.

Lee D. Jones, a city fireman, told the jurors about seeing Finn in the city prison and of helping to put him in the police car. He said the man was breathing heavily when taken to the hospital. Frank Snyder, traffic officer, told of taking Mr. Finn to the hospital. He was accompanied by Patrolman Earl Williams.

Jerome Mikessell, a cigarmaker, who was at the Labor Temple during the evening told the jurors that he was not acquainted with Mr. Finn. Mr. Mikessell testified that he was with Mr. Finn when Mr. Sweeney ordered them from the Labor Temple. He said when they reached the outside that Finn told him he couldn't walk and asked Mikessell to get him back into the building. Mikessell said he went to the rear of the building, opened a window into the temple and unlocked the front door went out to bring the aged man into the room. He said he found Finn lying on the gutter, walk with his feet in the gutter. Mikessell said he carried the injured man inside the building, locked the door and went home. He said that Finn did not appear to be injured.

Charles Hess, a cigarmaker, who went to supper with Finn Friday evening said that the printer had given him $20 to keep until Saturday. The money was given to Hess at the Labor Temple in the presence of several men. He turned the money over to Coroner Young. Hess said that Finn was drinking heavily and that he feared that someone would rob him. The inquest was attended by State's Attorney Hugh P. Green.

The verdict is as follows: "In the matter of the inquisition on the body of Dennis J. Finn, deceased, held at Jacksonville, Ill., on the 23rd day of February, 1929, we, the undersigned jurors, sworn to inquire of the death of Dennis J. Finn on oath do find that he came to his death by concussion of the brain as the result of a fracture of the skull, by an unknown cause."

"We the jury further recommend that the county commissioners instruct the county physician that in the future that all county patients be properly taken care of and given hospitalization when necessary. And furthermore recommend that the county physician be instructed to hire an ambulance to convey patients to hospitals when necessary. These recommendations were made following the testimony of the county physician and other officials at the inquest of Dennis J. Finn whom we feel did not receive proper and prompt medical attention from the county physician."

The members of the jury were Carl E. Newport, foreman; A. H. Kleinschmidt, Michael J. Crowe, James D. Pike, William H. Worthington and Harry Meyer, clerk. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the Church of Our Saviour. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

AWARD CONTRACTS TO REMODEL COURT ROOM

Remodeling and Redecorating of Circuit Court Room, Library and Jury Room to Take Place Soon

Contracts for remodeling and redecorating the circuit court room were awarded by the Morgan county commissioners yesterday. A. L. Black was awarded the contract for the general construction work. Hopper and Hamm will lay the linoleum. G. A. Sieber will do the electrical work. J. A. Biggs the painting and Joseph E. Doyle the plumbing.

The court room will undergo a thorough remodeling and the library and jury room will be redecorated. Specifications call for a number of changes in the court room. The judge's bench and jury box will be situated at the south end of the room, with the chairs for the jurors being in the southeast corner.

The two doors at the north end of the room which have been used as the entrance from the interior of the court house will be closed and one door cut in the middle of the north wall. The entire room will be redecorated, new linoleum will be laid over the entire floor, and Venetian blinds will be placed at each of the windows.

It is expected that the work will begin at once. The improvements will not only add to the appearance of the room but will contribute features such as better lighting, etc.

The bids on the work were as follows:
General construction—A. L. Black, $1,642.20; Joseph Ludwig, $2,028.86; Crawford Lumber company, $2,211.58; Linoleum—Hopper & Hamm, $1,650; Andre & Andre, $1,682.90. Electrical work—G. A. Sieber, $691.88; Fred W. Jameson, $1,175.36; Paul Trabue, $1,149.
Painting—J. A. Biggs, $648; Schneider & Murphy, $550.45; Albert Biggs, $1,400; Irvin Biggs, $1,335; George Smith, $1,531.29.
Plumbing—Joseph E. Doyle, $350; Sheehan & McNamara, $374; John Shields, $374.

NURSES AID IN GIVING FIRE VICTIMS RELIEF

The Jacksonville hospitals met the emergency caused by the fire at the Illinois Woman's College Friday night in a very efficient way. While many of the nurses were off duty they were quickly notified and within a short time the staffs of both hospitals were working to relieve the sufferings of those receiving burns and injuries.

Miss Mae W. Avery, acting superintendent of Passavant hospital was on duty when she learned of the tragedy. She immediately ordered all nurses at the Nurses Home to report for duty and sent word to all nurses in the city to report to the hospital. Miss Avery sent six nurses under the direction of Mrs. Esther Burge, operating supervisor to the college to give first aid to the injured there. As soon as the nurses completed their work there they returned to the hospital to assist the physicians and surgeons.

At Our Saviour's Hospital Sister Anna Raphael who was in charge quickly organized the hospital staff and had everything in readiness for the admission of patients. She also dispatched nurses to the college to give first aid. So swiftly was the staff organized that patients were given treatment immediately after entering the hospital.

PLACE TABLET IN MEMORY OF DR. HILL

A bronze tablet has been appropriately placed in the corridor of the main building at the Jacksonville State hospital under the direction of E. B. Brooks, managing officer of the institution, in memory of the work accomplished for the mentally disabled by Dr. E. L. Hill, deceased.

Thru policies carried out by Dr. Hill, he gained for the hospital and himself a national reputation in regard to the care and handling of mental diseases.

Dr. Hill was considered a pioneer in the care of those mentally diseased, feeling that it was his duty to care for those who were unable to care for themselves. He was considered a philanthropist, having given most of his life for others.

The tablet has the following inscription upon it:

A Tempting Suite at a Bargain Price

"DON'T buy for price—but don't forget it" is a good furniture-proverb to remember... In the case of this Dining Room Suite you CAN'T forget it. You can't forget the mellow Old World atmosphere about it or the quality of workmanship behind it either. It is genuine Berkeley and Gay and has every distinguished characteristic of style-quality and craft-quality for which this distinguished house is famous. Here is a suite with every characteristic which could recommend it to lovers of fine furniture. Old English features distinguish it—giving it mellow Old World charm. Modern conveniences distinguish it—read the upper right-hand paragraph. Style-quality distinguishes it—and finished craftsmanship is reflected in the last detail of its construction. This is far more than ordinarily good furniture; far more than an ordinary bargain; and seldom have we offered such furniture character and style appeal at such a price. This is one of the rare, tempting chances.

FILIPINE QUARTET ENTERTAINS TUESDAY ASSEMBLY MEETING

Lyceum Troupe Well Liked by Students; Play Native Instruments

Tuesday morning in assembly, another of the Lyceum entertainers was the feature of entertainment. Announcements of club and class meetings were given by Principal Mutch, then the assembly was turned over to the Philippine entertainers. The three men and one woman played two numbers as their opening selections for the morning. After these numbers, a stringed duet with piano accompaniment was given. One of the Filipinos was what we might term as actually "cute." He displayed many of his attractive ways while he played "Girl of My Dreams," "Ain't She Sweet," and what he termed as "The Old Well Known" in his quaint brogue, on the ukelele. One of the entertainers who played the piano, played two selections, one of which was his own composition, "You and I." Among the rest of the selections there were a mandolin solo and two trio compositions, one of which was the "Filipino Waltz." The number which appealed to the audience the most was the closing piece "Without You Sweetheart," which was played by all four of the entertainers. The Filipino who has already been spoken of and in whom the audience had so much interest, sang this number very delightfully. With such an emphatic ending the assembly adjourned. —Dorothy Vieira, '30.

FACULTY BEATS GIRLS TEAM IN BASKETBALL

The faculty basketball team defeated the junior-senior girls' team in a game Friday 27-20. The faculty team was composed of Mrs. Agger, Miss Groves, Miss Kamm, Miss Cusic, Miss Osborne, and Miss Leonard. Edna Behl, Helen Clement, Mildred Madison, Betty Elgin, Elmer Torrance, Helen Sturdy, Louise Muller, Mildred Deaton, and Maxine Deppe played on the junior-senior team. Mrs. Agger was the high point scorer with 19 points and Edna Behl was a close second with 16 points to her credit. The junior-senior team was handicapped because their captain, Dorothy DeFrates, could not play because of an injured eye. A return game will be held in the near future. —Jeanne Kendall.

JUNIOR-SENIOR ROW STOPPED SECOND DAY

Seniors tried to show their superiority by making the juniors bow to them Thursday noon as they entered the building by the main entrance. They were successful in making a few juniors bow to them. However when the juniors came up in a body, the seniors stopped their tactics and barred the doors to prevent the juniors from entering. The juniors not to be outdone attacked the seniors. A fight ensued which lasted until the bell rang. The same thing occurred Friday noon but was put to an immediate halt by Mr. Sheppard who is acting as school policeman for this week.

AG GROUPS NAMED TO PLAN SHOW, BANQUET

A called meeting of the Ag club was held Tuesday at 3:30, to select two committees for the Alumni Banquet and one for the Junior Corn Show.

The committee for the Junior corn show to be held on March 4 consists of: Roy Lovekamp, chairman, Paul Thies, and Harold Hurrelbrink. The general committee for the banquet on February 25 includes: Philip Schofield, chairman, Harold Hammett, Ivan Fearey, and Milton Birdsell. The program committee is: Lloyd Smith, chairman; James Hadden, Harry Driver, and Harold Tomhave.

For the past week the soils and crops class has been studying utility corn, and Monday each boy brought one ear of corn from his home seed supply, selecting what he thought was an example of good seed.

This corn was examined and the knowledge gained will aid each in selecting his ten-ear exhibit for the corn show. —William Ash, '30.

Freshmen Girls Are Disappointed in Alleged "Dr."

The female sex of the class of '32 is completely disillusioned. Its idol, Dr. John J. Sieler, was arrested in Davenport for appearing under false pretenses. The girls, who all collected Dr. Sieler's autograph, contend that this information was only propaganda put out by the pie and aspirin tablet manufacturers in order to ruin the doctor's reputation. However, the newspaper report is that there was found in Mr. Sieler's possession the property of several jewelry stores. It is said that one freshman went so far as to tear up the autograph which Dr. Sieler gave to her; however, she saved the pieces in case he humor of this man's arrest should prove false. —Horace Griggs, '30.

"DIRT"

All of Bob Hartman's feminine friends were disappointed at the Hi-Y date night. He was one of the numerous stags.

We think that Mr. Mutch has been very generous in allowing us to have dances in the hall. More power to him.

Our friend, Max Gilbert, who has been a bachelor through his high school career has at last been carried away by the attractiveness of a nanker's daughter.

The "J" staff has requested that all seniors refrain from using their oom as a retreat.

The seniors are showing their ability at steeplejacking. Their class colors were displayed outside of our chemistry professor's window. We suggest that all underclassmen do not display their ability at removing same.

Russ Ludwig still remains unconquered by the women. Remarkable record.

Chalk up Horace Griggs for date number 13. Quite a remarkable record for he who had his initial attempt in 1929.

They cry for more. Brave on, dear readers.

Station D-I-R-T now signing off. Will be on the air in this column next week. Please stand by.

BOOSTS "CRIMSON J"

At the sophomore class meeting last Wednesday morning Elizabeth Laughey made several announcements concerning the "Crimson J." She said in reality that the "J" costs the staff four dollars per copy and due to the advertisements, picture show, and subscriptions they are able to sell them at two dollars. She also said that this may be the last "J" for the "J's" existence, "So get your J's early." —LeRoy Fairman, '31

THE STAFF

The journalism class of J. H. S. has elected editors of the Exhaust for the next three weeks. The results are as follows: Ned Giffen, first with fourteen votes; Weir Elliott, second, with eleven votes; and Max Gilbert, third with seven votes. Accordingly Ned Giffen is editor-in-chief for this week, with Junior Little and Dorothy Vieira as assistants. Weir Elliott and Max Gilbert have not chosen their assistants as yet.

ELECT OFFICERS

Miss Aileen Rabjohn's modern history class elected officers last Monday. They are: President—Jay Hamilton. Vice-president and chairman of the program committee—Mildred Deaton. Secretary—Faye Mahoney. Every Monday the class will hold a discussion of world news with these students in charge. Next week they will discuss George Washington. —Jeanne Kendall, '30.

EDITORIALS

Is the senior class the royal army of Jacksonville high school? Should the underclassmen respect their colors? No, the underclassmen should do none of this and furthermore, this won't be unless they are compelled to. The underclassmen have not yet been subdued and why should we bow down before their colors? They are attempting to make the underclassmen go through the ceremony similar to that of the Romans who made those whom they have conquered go under the yoke and bow to their colors. Although the seniors have burnt the junior's colors we have not surrendered and will not until we are completely outclassed by the seniors. The underclassmen will either have to join or die.

J. H. S. '30.

Jacks

The high school voted as a body some time ago to adopt the name "Jacks" when referring to the basketball team. Just what the word "Jacks" means was not thought of when we voted this way.

The Jackal is a dog-like animal smaller than a wolf and of less savage habits. Jackals originally came from the jungles of Southern Asia. They come out at nights in packs to hunt.

Jackals are described as of a yellow color, and as being those who do the dirty work of others.

Our teams and our crowds are not yellow. We come to the games and play showing good sportsmanship. Surely the school and its honorable team does not wish to be classed with the Jackals.

Ruth Vasconcellos, '30.

What? No "Crimson J"

This is the last year that Jacksonville High School will have an annual. What would the student body think if this statement was put before them? No doubt there would be endless criticism coming from all portions of the building. It is very probable that the class of '32 and the class of '31 will be annualless; but if the class of '30 show the faculty that they really want an annual enough to support it, the thread by which it is hanging may be strengthened so that the present Junior class may be successful in gaining the proper permission to publish a year book next year.

The annual of 1929 is now in the making. This will be the most elaborate book that has ever been offered for sale by any senior class of J. H. S. It will contain many features that no annual in this part of the state has attempted. The actual cost of this book is well over $1600 making $4 the minimum cost of each of the 400 books. The "J" staff is selling each for only $2.00. Why should any urging be necessary to gain subscribers to such a proposition as this?

Juniors, here's a chance to show our principal that you do want an annual and that you can and will support one. This year's annual is already a success in regard to subscriptions, but by a little over subscription on the part of the Juniors they may be able to pull themselves thru and gain the privilege of having a "CRIMSON J" with which to remember their faculty, friends, and classmates.

This is an offer to you, Juniors. Are you going to accept? —Weir Elliott, '29.

HOME EC GIRLS PLAN DINNERS FOR CREDIT

Every girl in the Senior class is responsible for a dinner to be given in the Home Economics Department dining room.

This week Mildred Carter will act as hostess and Beulah Hawk as host at formal Washington Birthday dinner given Thursday, Feb. 21, 1929. Washington's birthday decorations will be used.

Each girl is allowed to invite two guests, guests and two members of the class.

The guest list for Mildred Carter's dinner included: Mrs. S. J. Carter, Mrs. W. W. Carter, Elizabeth Jameson, Marcella Moore.

—Maxine Deppe, '30.

WILLIAMS PUTS ON MUSIC CLASS SHOW

On Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20, the music class enjoyed a delightful program which was planned by Earl Wallis. The following numbers were given:

Piano solo—Winona Rawlings. Accordion and musical saw duet—Margaret Elliott and Winona Rawlings.

Vocal solo—Winona Rawlings. Trombone solo—William Crandall. Vocal solo—Emily Doyle.

Each Wednesday a program is presented in class. Each pupil has to plan one program during the year. —Frances Carter, '29.

FINISH SEA BATTLE

Miss Moore's Latin 4 class have finished translating the sea battle between the Romans and the Venetians.

Nature was against the Venetians for there came a calm during the battle and the Venetian ships were left helpless for they had nothing but sails. The Romans had both sails and oars and defeated the Venetians badly.

MANY BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY LISTS

The high school library has added many new books to its collection and has ordered more.

There is a series of books called "Messages and Papers of Presidents from 1789-1897." In all there are 10 volumes. These books are helpful for reference work in history.

Two non-fiction books were also added, "14,000 Miles Through The Air," by Ross Southard, and "Strange Corners of the World," by Wetherall.

The following books were ordered for the English classes: "Abraham Lincoln," by Sandberg; "When Knights Were Bold," by Tappan; "Within Prison Walls," by Osborne; "Great Cities of the U. S.," by Southworth and Kramer; "Short Stories of Today," by Wood, and "Long's American Literature," by LeRoy Fairman, '31.

TIPISTS PREPARE FOR CONFERENCE CONTEST

The Typing Class I are preparing for the Big Twelve Conference contests. A speed test was given last week, and from this test a team was chosen for the fourth period class and one from the seventh period class.

Each week these teams will be changed, until the Conference wants the names of the permanent teams.

Those on the fourth period team are: Amy Douglas, Pauline Galley, Virginia Heaton, and Virginia Black. Those on the seventh period class team are: Irene Dalton, Edison DeFrates, Mildred Deaton, and Sarah Barnett.

—Maxine Deppe, '30.

USE DRILL SHEETS

The English six classes are now beginning a new type of work which consists of drill sheets.

These sheets are the first of this type ever used during the junior year in the Jacksonville High School. It is an entirely new system and furnishes a splendid drill for the students. It is hoped that they will benefit by these drills.

STUDENTS HEAR OF HONOR POINT PLAN

A called assembly was held Wednesday morning at 10:10 in the auditorium. Principal Mutch turned the meeting over to John White, president of the Student Council.

John told the assembly that the purpose was to check up the honor points each student has. He read the system of rules to the assembly. It is recommended that each student of the high school have at least five honor points and not more than fifteen at any one time.

After this part of the assembly, Mr. Mutch took the opportunity of speaking to the assembly concerning the yearly annual, the "Crimson J." He said that he had seen many school annuals, but that the one that is being offered to us this year excels them all. Class meetings were then called to discuss the advance sale of the "Crimson J," after which the assembly adjourned. —Dorothy Vieira, '30.

SOPHS SPONSOR SHOW

The sophomores are sponsoring a picture show next Tuesday night, February 26th. The title of the feature picture is "Headless Horseman" with Will Rogers. In addition to this there will be a vaudeville act by Phil Morris and Jack Rowland, and the band will play a few selections. The price of admission will be twenty cents. Every one should try to take advantage of this unusual opportunity.

Kenneth Huff, '30.

HI-Y TO MEET

The Hi-Y will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, February 26, at 6 o'clock in the Grace church.

Since last week's program was not carried out, it will be continued at this meeting.

Rev. Lee of the Brooklyn Methodist church will lead in the discussion on "The Philosophy of a Boy's Life."

The Hollywood Studio, N. S. S. Penny Photos, Kodak Finishing. Anything photographic.

RHEUMATISM OVERCOME BY WALKING

It has been found that an especially constructed and treated pair of heel plates (one zinc and one copper) placed in the shoes of a sufferer, quickly rids the wearer of rheumatic pains, sciatica and stiff joints, as well as tones up the system in general. Thus the sufferer literally "walks" his way to health. Experiments in hundreds of cases prove these heel plates to be a boon to the sufferer in most severe cases of rheumatism. Smith's Eureka Co., 131 Lee St., McKenzie, Tenn., are so anxious to prove their statement that they are willing to send any sufferer their liberal trial offer. Write them today.—Advertisement.

Bluffs

Bluffs, Feb. 23.—Dr. H. W. Sears will give a general talk on "Health and Disease Prevention" at the M. P. church Sunday night. He will deal principally with scarlet fever as that disease is not so well known as many others. Special music has been arranged for the occasion.

Down Delivers Any Radio

MODEL 46, the new all-electric, never-fail, vision Dial. Uses 7 A. C. tubes and 1 rectifying tube, with double power tube stage. Without tubes $34.

MODEL P-2 (Electro-Dynamic) speaker. True to the whole range of music and the human voice. $14.

THE deep, full bass that you like! A new "organ quality" in radio music! Now you hear the full range of an orchestra, including overtones and harmonics that give each instrument its own individuality.

This wonderful new Atwater Kent is simply amazing in its ability to reproduce everything that makes music so satisfying when well played or sung. No exaggeration, mind you; no over-emphasis of the low notes at the expense of the high; no artificiality. Just the truth—all the way.

Come in and hear the Atwater Kent Electro-Dynamic. You will realize instantly that Atwater Kent has surpassed himself in applying the electro-dynamic principle to produce a better instrument. He guarantees it. We guarantee it. Come in and try it.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Twas on the great wide plains of the west where the spirit of nature ruled untamed and undisturbed by the hand of man, that Professor Rolvaag chose as the scene of his great epic-novel "Giants in the Earth." Himself a pioneer, he caught the spirit of the prairie, with its clear open plains spreading mile after mile in immeasurable extent.

until it meets the far beckoning skies and melts in the horizon. We can see those sturdy Norwegian immigrants searching, pushing their way over the midland plains, unaided by carriages, privation or Indian trails, moving on, on, losing themselves in the depths of this unblazed vastness, drawn by the vision of the little home they craved.

In this train of immigrant wagons were those of Per Hansa and Beret, his wife, whose long wearisome journey, whose struggles with the forces of nature in the building of their little homestead, whose determination, faith and courageous spirit grip the imagination and stir the very heart's depths of the readers.

Recently Professor Rolvaag has given his readers the sequel of this great saga in "Feder Victorious." With Per Hansa gone, Beret is left with the responsibility of the farm and of bringing up her three children. To Per Hansa she was a frail help, ever consumed with the longing for home, but now she emerges in the true spirit of her Viking blood and carries on this little home with determination.

She is the link between the two generations, the old sturdy, resourceful pioneering type and the eager, adventurous, questioning spirit of youth exemplified in Feder. She has plenty of courage and determination for the hardships of life, but she lacks the understanding to face the problems of the younger generation. She clings to the old traditions and symbols of their native land and opposes the system that educates Feder in English or his interest in a different religion. At first Feder is influenced by his mother, but the gradual contact of a larger, fuller life beckons him away and he refuses her choice of his profession or the interference with his education. After many brave but futile attempts in her purpose, Beret gives way and Feder emerges "Victorious."

Though Professor was considered hopeless as a child at school, yet he has ever been consumed with an unsatiable desire for reading and after coming to America in 1896, he completed his education through school and college. He is now professor of Norwegian literature at St. Olaf college, Minnesota. He writes in Norwegian and his work is then translated into English.

His heart burns and glows with the fire of his subject and pours itself out in a powerful incense of love, sympathy and understanding of his people as he portrays their intense love for their native land with all of its romance and traditions, the tenacity with which they hold on to these customs, and finally the glorious way in which they grow to love this land of their adoption, blending the fine ideals and institutions and racial differences into a generation of refined gold—the "Victorious" generation of new Americans.

The reader of this book is far beyond that of the usual novel, it not only entertains but gives a vital, breathing picture of the immigrant life and the intricacies and phases of the oft-mentioned "melting pot." Ask for it at the Public Library.

RADIO NEWS

We'll spare words on the Atwater Kent and Eveready Radios. The Atwater Kent or Eveready is an Atwater Kent or Eveready anywhere you buy it, but who installs it and how the installation is done can make one Atwater Kent or Eveready better than another.

Our Atwater Kent and Eveready Radios are sold on Service, because of the growing recognition that no Radio is better than its aerial. Special emphasis is laid on the installation that will bring out full tone—color—richness—depth.

Our men have made a study of installing Radios. They analyze the Radio condition of your neighborhood—your block—and even of your building. When the job is done it will be done right.

Your old Radio has a trade-in value; the rest in low monthly sums.

MASCOUTAH Area Council

Robert L. Ellis, Scout Executive
THE WORLD SCOUT JAMBOREE
 Nearly thirty thousand Boy Scouts from forty-two nations in which Scouting is organized will gather together at Arrowe Park, near London, for a two weeks' encampment from August 1 to August 14, 1929, in celebration of the twenty-first anniversary of Scouting in the world. The jamboree is being held in London in honor of Sir Baden Powell, who is the founder of the Scout organization. Nearly one thousand four hundred Boy Scouts of the United States have made preliminary registration at National Headquarters to attend this big world jamboree. The jamboree is to be in the form of a great world camp, or rather a series of camps, in a large six hundred acre estate near Birkenhead, just across the Mersey from Liverpool. The main purpose of the whole jamboree is to establish a world brotherhood among Scouts. Any registered Scout is eligible to attend this world jamboree. Information may be received from Scout Headquarters.

Court of Honor
 Court of Honor will be held Monday night for Jacksonville district at the State Street Presbyterian church 7:30 p. m. Session of the Court of Honor will be held Tuesday night for the Murraville-Woodson District at the Murraville M. E. Church, Wednesday night. Court will be held for the Beardsdown district at the Lincoln School Building Thursday night. Court will be held for the Waverly District at the grade school building.

Local Scout Jamboree
 In Scouting, there are many activities to take up the Boy's leisure time. The activities are such that appeal to the boy's interest and arrange in such a manner that as Scouts participate in these activities they make certain achievements and advancements. A demonstration of some of the Scout activities will be given at the Scout jamboree to be held at the State Hospital gymnasium Monday night March 4, 7:30 p. m. Tickets for this jamboree may be secured from any of the local Scouts.

TROOP NEWS

Troop 2
 Dr. T. R. Cooper, Scoutmaster
 Lewis Fisher, Scribe
 Troop 2 held its regular meeting Thursday night at the State Street Presbyterian Church. One hundred and fifty tickets were given out. Announcement was made that the Court of Honor would be Monday night, February 25. Check up was held to find how many were to advance. A troop hike was planned for Saturday, February 23. Each Scout is to bring his own lunch and spend the day. The mobilization plan was planned more definitely.

Troop 5
 Delmar Smith, Scoutmaster
 Austin Ashbaugh, Scribe
 Waverly Troop 5 held its regular meeting Monday evening, with sixteen Scouts and five visitors present. For roll call each Scout gave something about Lincoln. We practiced for our play the rest of the meeting and then closed with the Scout benediction.

Troop 4
 Luther E. Miller, Scoutmaster
 Ralph Hamm, Scribe
 Troop 4 held its weekly meeting at the Centenary M. E. church Tuesday night, February 18. The meeting was opened at 7:00 p. m. by repeating the Scout Oath. Patrol meetings were then held. Frank Smith passed all of his Tenderfoot tests. Also Aubrey Jackson and Willard Goodrich passed tests. Ralph Hamm and Herbert Naylor completed their Second class tests. We collected dues and talked about the Jamboree. The tickets for the Jamboree were given out. We had a few games and dismissed by repeating the Scout benediction.

Troop 7
 Willard Johnson, Scoutmaster
 Melvin Shadid, Scribe
 Troop 7 held its regular meeting February 21. The meeting was opened by repeating the Scout Oath and Laws. Then the roll was called with fourteen Scouts answering present. The Scoutmasters announced the Jamboree and tickets were distributed. The Scouts will be guests of the Grace M. E. church Father and Son organization Friday. We decided to give a program. Test passing and review of First Aid, Signalling, etc., were held. Practice to the Jamboree contests was held. Later in the evening scout Robert Baldwin received his Tenderfoot badge and registration certificate. Donald Griffith registered and passed his Tenderfoot tests. The meeting was closed.

"THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY"

Is the name given to the LOWER RIO GRANDE VALLEY OF TEXAS. C. N. PRIEST and his EXCURSION party returned yesterday from the "MAGIC VALLEY" where the SUMMER spends the WINTER and where on last TUESDAY the THERMOMETER registered 85 in the shade, and where ORANGE and GRAPE FRUIT orchards were loaded with the choicest fruit that grows anywhere in the United States. And where ripe STRAWBERRIES covered the ground in endless varieties. To say nothing of the VEGETABLE family. Winter vegetables, as every one knows are the first to mature and bring better values than anywhere else in the United States.

"CLIMATIC CONDITIONS"
 The climatic conditions are such in the VALLEY, that almost all the "ILLS" that humanity is subject to vanish like DEW before the morning Sun. ASTHMA, CATARRH, HAY FEVER, rheumatism and TUBERCULOSIS does not and cannot exist in that atmosphere.

"BANK ACCOUNTS"
 Bank accounts increase instead of decrease in the Valley. MR. PRIEST invites you to join him on his next EXCURSION which leaves JACKSONVILLE on SATURDAY, MARCH 2nd, at (NOON). You can't afford to miss this trip.

with the Scout benediction.

Troop 9
 M. J. Donahoe, Scoutmaster
 George Greenler, Scribe
 Troop 9 opened the meeting with the Scout Oath and Flag Salute. The Scouts received the Jamboree this Monday. After finding out what Scouts would participate in the activities, the Scouts went to their patrol sides. The patrols had an argument, finding out which patrol should receive a new Scout. The Scouts did this as they would a debate. After the debate, the officers of the troop judged the sides, in which the Fox patrol won. We closed the meeting with the Scout benediction.

THE RECORD-BREAKING NEW NASH "400"

from 9th to 4th place in just 6 months!
 IN DOLLARS AND CENTS VOLUME, ACCORDING TO OFFICIAL FIGURES (Ford Excluded)

ON July 1, 1928, Nash stood ninth in dollars and cents volume of sales, exclusive of Ford, according to the official figures for the year ending at that date.

On January 1, 1929, just six months later, according to the same official figures, Nash stood fourth.

In this very brief period the new Nash "400" has completely changed the automobile picture of America.

With unmistakable enthusiasm, motorists everywhere have placed their stamp of approval upon this new Nash —making it, by a tremendous margin, the outstanding motor success of modern automobile history.

Why? Because Nash gives them the Twin-Ignition motor... gives them cars equipped with the Bijur centralized chassis lubrication system... with hydraulic shock absorbers... with bumpers front and rear... spare tire lock... cars completely, luxuriously equipped... at no extra cost.

Ninth to fourth place in just six months because the new Nash "400" is the only car of all the new cars with every new and progressive feature!

The New NASH "400"

TWO MONSTER AUTOS

TUNE UP FOR TRIALS

Each Has Different Theory as to Best Way to Increase Speed Over Land—Both Have Airplane Motors.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Two monster racing cars will be tuned here next week for another dash over the wave lapped sands to decide whether man may increase his land speed through bigger motors or better designing.

J. M. White, of Philadelphia, advocate of super-power, brings his 36 cylinder record-breaking triplex to join Major H. C. D. Segrave of England, whose Golden Arrow, with new streamlines, has been brought from England to challenge the record of 207.55 miles an hour set by the triplex last April with Ray Keech at the wheel.

White believes new records may be established by using more horsepower while Segrave, who formerly held the straightaway record at 203 miles an hour, contends that reduced wind resistance and less power is a more desirable combination. They will have an opportunity to test out their theories during the international speed trials here March 1 to 15.

The triplex is powered with three 12 cylinder Liberty motors and weighs approximately four tons. Segrave's machine weighs 2 1/2 tons and is powered with one 12 cylinder airplane motor. Segrave will use ten-play smooth tread tires with only enough rubber on them to make them smooth. Specially constructed at a cost of $2,500 they measure 37 x 7 inches and have been designed to withstand for one minute a centrifugal force of 3,400 revolutions a minute, or an equivalent to the speed at which they would revolve in traveling at a 240 mile clip. White probably will use a similar tire of larger dimensions.

Since his arrival here from England, Segrave has been spending his time tuning up the motor of his speed boat. Miss England, preparatory to making an attempt to break the world's boat record of 92.8 miles an hour, now held by Gar Wood, veteran boat builder and racer. He made several trials yesterday, but his craft developed motor trouble.

It costs a thousand dollars more to equal CHRYSLER Performance in any other car

New Chrysler "65" 4-Door Sedan $1145

CHRYSLER engineers from the outset disregarded all other performance standards and all other design. They set themselves to establish definitely the most modern principles and fundamentals of engineering and to apply them in a brand new way.

The same processes which based the new Chrysler style on the canons of classic beauty worked step by step to provide performance unlike any other in the industry—founded on a new and fresh interpretation of the basic principles of engineering design.

It is because of this Chrysler plan and the achievement of this plan, that an entirely new motor car performance has been brought into being.

The extraordinary acceleration, smooth speed, ease of handling and control, compactness, comfort, durability and long life, together with the unusual safety and stamina which characterize Chrysler, have all been combined in a car whose qualities can only be approached by other cars costing hundreds, yes, even a thousand dollars more.

It is no wonder that Chrysler engineers, working with that singleness of idea and surety of approach to every problem, should create a product built as none was ever built before and better than any other.

New Chrysler "65"—Six body styles, $1040 to $1145. New Chrysler "75"—Nine body styles, $1535 to $2345. New Chrysler Imperial—Five custom body styles, $2675 to $3475. All prices f. o. b. factory

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNOCK

(READ THE STORY. THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)
The Tines, cheerful as could be, were quite a funny sight to see. The great big duck was holding them up on a bit of rope. The queer old lady, on the duck, said, "My, you boys have heaps of pluck. You don't seem scared. Well, you are really very safe—I hope!"
"At least I'll keep you out of harm, and there'll be no cause for alarm as long as you behave yourselves. I think that's only fair."

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

Sketches by Krenz; Synopsis by Braucher

"You bet it is," we Coppy cried. "We're glad to get this dandy ride. And we will all be good so we can stay up in the air."
Thus, through the sky they gaily flew, and then the next thing that they knew, the sun began to disappear 'cause night was drawing nigh. The brilliant clouds of putty white were passing now right out of sight. And in their places stars appeared to decorate the sky.
"Hey!" shouted Coppy. "We can't see. I really think it best that we fly down to earth where we can sleep with feet upon the ground. Of course the darkness is all right, and never is a cause for fright, but I feel sure that nicer spots than up here can be found."
